Operations Update

RDT has continued to add valuable talent to its senior management team with the appointment of Dr. Rina Carlini as Vice President, Research & Innovation in April.

RDT signed a distribution agreement with TFB & Associates Ltd. granting TFB rights to distribute and sell RDT's QuickStrip™ nutraceutical products to the over-the-counter retail market in Canada.

RDT signed a twelve-month agreement with Ukraine Pharma for the distribution of its QuickStrip™ nutraceutical products to Ukraine and other Eastern European countries and received a purchase order for US$2.1 million.

RDT recently filed a site license application for the manufacturing, packaging/labelling of natural health products in Canada enabling to manufacture its QuickStrip™ nutraceutical products in-house.

RDT expanded its relationship with Chemesis International Inc. through the commercialization of RDT's QuickStrip™ Oral Thin Strips within the United States by adding the State of Michigan to its currently approved territories of Puerto Rico and the State of California.

In July, RDT completed the installation of its proprietary QuickStrip™ production equipment at Flower One Holdings Inc. in Nevada, USA, resulting in the commencement of recurring revenue under its Managed Strip Services Agreement ("MSSA").

RDT has also submitted a site license application for a micro-processor license, to enable RDT to manufacture its QuickStrip™ cannabis products in-house on a white-label basis for licensed Canadian producers.

RDT now has a total of six signed MSSAs for the production of QuickStrip™ cannabis products, and two signed agreements for the purchase of nutraceutical products. On the basis that the MSSAs remain in effect for the full five year terms, and the nutraceutical agreements are entirely fulfilled, these agreements represent minimum contracted revenues of more than $12 million, which can only be recognized by RDT upon the completion of delivery of equipment and/or product to RDT's partners and over the remaining life of the agreements. Additional revenues may also be recognized above this total if RDT's partners attain certain production levels.

"We are now heavily focused on the delivery and installation of our proprietary production equipment in facilities in Canada, the United States, Puerto Rico, and Germany, to commence the recognition of recurring revenues from these signed contracts and are committed to remaining a global industry leader in the oral thin film strip market," said Mark Upsdell, CEO of RDT.
